

My favourite things

Tany Hamel moved to London one year ago because of her husband's job. She is French and grew up in Lyon, which according to her is one of the best culinary cities in France. She has a degree in Business Law and Business Management. She has five years' experience in digital marketing projects, speaks three languages (French, English and Italian) and lived in Italy for a year. She is fascinated by other cultures and loves living abroad.

Your best advice to someone just arriving in the UK?

Take some free time to discover the city and English culture: take a hop on, hop off bus tour; afternoon tea, a walk in Hyde park...

Your preferred bar?

The Aqua, a great rooftop place!

The ultimate boutique?

Harrrrroddddd!

The highlight of your UK adventure so far?

A trip to see Seven Sisters. A great walk along the sea with amazing weather!

Your preferred West End show?

Best ever show: Mamma Mia (Here I go again!) and best craziest show, The Rocky Horror Picture Show.

The most indulgent spa?

I don't know any spa in London, but if I want to relax and breathe, a walk in the park (especially Holland Park) is a great treatment.

Your favourite flower shop?

Rassels of Kensington, especially for Christmas trees.

Your preferred mode of transport?

The tube is really convenient.

Your first memory of arriving in the UK?

"Oh god, is it raining?" I was in the Eurostar, just arriving from Paris.

Your favourite restaurant?

The Abingdon

The best place to workout/exercise?

Hyde Park

The best place for afternoon tea?

Without any hesitation the Churchill Pub - best ambiance, best decoration.

Your favourite location for a 'date night'?

The Shard: a great place where you can have a drink and enjoy a beautiful view of the city.

What is London's best-kept secret?

The weather is variable; you can wake up with the rain and two hours later enjoy glorious sunshine!

Your favourite place to shop for the home?

Argos!

Your favourite museum or gallery?

The Victoria and Albert Museum: free entrance and an amazing art collection!

The best place to take the kids on a rainy day?

Why not the Natural History Museum?
