

apps
FOR YOUR
ENTERTAINMENT

Time Out (Free): Discover the best things to do, free events, gigs and art exhibitions in London and even book your theatre tickets. Discover and explore new places to eat and drink with curated lists of restaurants, events, bars and things to do at the week-end.

DOJO (Free): Dojo helps you find the coolest places to eat, drink and visit in London. Just enter some simple preferences and start getting recommendations tailored to you. Every day the app's staff finds the best things to do in the city, focusing on independent, quirky, hidden gems that you will love, but probably don't know about. Integrates with Uber and Citymapper:

Yplan (Free): This app is about making it as simple as possible to discover and book things to do in your city that evening. Film, theatre, music, food and drink, performances, comedy, culture, nightlife and sports. Browse through a curated shortlist of the best events near you and book in just two taps. There is no need to print anything; everything is 100% mobile.

Foursquare (Free): Find the best places to eat, drink, shop, or visit in any city in the world. Save them so that Foursquare learns what you like and leads you to places you'll love.

Fever (Free): Selects events you want to see, based on your interests including: Food and drink (bars, wine and beer tasting, brunch spots, etc.) Nightlife (clubs, guest lists, access to private shows, etc.) Performance (music festivals, concerts, theatres, comedy shows, etc.) Film (cinema tickets, pop-up movie screenings, themed film nights) Art (museums, galleries, exhibitions, artists' openings, etc.) Fashion (pop-up stores, runway shows, launch parties, etc.) Charity (galas, fundraising events, volunteer initiatives, etc.)

KweekWeek (Free): KweekWeek is an events marketplace that connects organisers and consumers in a single space and offers promotions, ticketing, updates and recommendations. You can browse by either date or category: art and culture, charity, classes and workshops, conferences and exhibitions, festivals, food and drinks, health and wellbeing, kids and family, networking, nightlife, shows, sports, students and technology.

Hype (Free): This app focuses on art, parties, food, architecture and outdoor activities. Hype is based on influencer networks, a group of people from different backgrounds who are passionate about the cities in which they live. Each curator has a different focus and neighbourhood. They keep an eye on what's cool, trending, and happening right now.

InList (Free): InList makes booking nightlife and special events easier than ever. The app grants you reservations when you want them, with a nightlife expert in the palm of your hand. It's like being treated as a local VIP 24/7 in the most exciting destinations in the world, including London. Purchase tickets to concerts, sporting events and film festivals such as Wimbledon and the Super Bowl to the Cannes International Film Festival and MTV Video Music Awards.

Stagedoor (Free): For the London theatre-lover. Find out what's on where and when. Follow directors, casts and venue; find out first about any London show and get notifications when shows are closing so you don't miss out; leave reviews and let your friends know what you've seen.

SocialNightlife (Free): This app offers an easy, fun, and social way to experience the best nightlife. Explore thousands of venues and events in more than 100 cities across the world, connect with other attendees wherever you go, and earn rewards for going out.

Frugl (Free): Daily offers and events in London at a price to suit your pocket. Find out free or discounted events around London.

DesignMyNight (Free): Discover and book your perfect night out. Browse and book into London's top bars, restaurants, pubs and clubs, as well as buy tickets to the hand-picked selection of London's best events. These include anything from pop-up bars to rooftop cinema, secret supper clubs to immersive theatre events, offers, hot tickets, best restaurants, quirky events, sports, fun birthday ideas and much more.

Yule Nightlife (Free): Connect with friends and find real-time information for bars, nightclubs, events, breweries, and bowling alleys wherever you are. With Yule, you can quickly link to reliable social content from Google, Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter. You can post photos, videos, and text to share your nightlife experiences with others nearby, or even post anonymously! You can also Follow your favourite venues and events to instantly access their profiles.

In our next issue be sure to look for our roundup of the best children's apps.